Computer-Plotted Graphics

Editor's Note

The images presented on the following pages were plotted by a computer system under the control of a program written by composer Herbert Brün. The images, entitled "two," "both," and "many," are part of a series of six works called LINKS. The cover of this issue of Computer Music Journal—the image "all"—is also a part of the LINKS series. There are four different six-element LINKS in existence. Each is a variation on an initial program. The works "9069-2a" and "9069-2b" form a pair, as do the two untitled images that follow them. New, original works are available plotted in a special edition. For more information, contact Professor Brün.
