

I've been thoroughly enjoying practicing calligraphy during this course, and I'm excited to share a few of my favorite pieces with you. Exploring the art of Chinese calligraphy and delving into the intricacies of writing in this beautiful traditional language has been an incredibly rewarding experience.

In my final drawing, I decided to depict the Chinese character for happiness. This choice was influenced by the overwhelming sense of joy and contentment that I derived from the entire course experience. I found immense pleasure in interacting with and learning from the diverse group of international students.
